AIUM Mission

To empower and cultivate a global multidisciplinary community engaged in the use of medical ultrasound through raising awareness, education, sharing information, and research.

AIUM History

The American Institute of Ultrasound in Medicine (AIUM) was officially established as a multidisciplinary organization in 1952 when the use of ultrasound for medical diagnosis was in its infancy.

Medical pioneers recognized the potential of this fast-growing imaging modality and agreed on the need to advance the art and science of ultrasound in medicine and research.

AIUM Purpose

Create a world where high quality medical ultrasound is accessible to all for improved patient care.

THE AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF ULTRASOUND IN MEDICINE

The American Institute of Ultrasound in Medicine (AIUM) creates opportunities for passionate medical professionals to improve their knowledge and use of ultrasound in the diagnosis and treatment of patients. Through rigorous research, high-quality education, and evidence-based training and practice resources, the AIUM is leading the global multidisciplinary ultrasound community.

IN-KIND SUPPORT

Provide educational programming support for ultrasound courses through in-kind donations and unrestricted educational grants. Your donations allow new courses to be developed and give ultrasound professionals at all levels the chance to enhance their diagnostic and technical skills.

Your generous contribution(s) will receive appropriate recognition and will let the AIUM audience know you are a pillar of their ultrasound advancement.

- In-kind donations for AIUM Courses
- Courses can include machines, tools, gels, etc.
- Unrestricted educational grants

MEDICAL ULTRASOUND SAFETY (MUS) LICENSING

The US Food and Drug Administration (FDA) recommends manufacturers provide an ultrasound safety manual with each ultrasound equipment sold. The newest version of the AIUM Medical Ultrasound Safety (MUS) manual meets the FDA requirements (Track 3) for education programs for the clinical end user and is filled with many new technological advances in ultrasound scanning.

Licensing and printed documents available.
Contact aiumpartnerships@aium.org for more information.

INDUSTRY VOUCHER PROGRAM

The AIUM Industry Educational Voucher Program is a collaboration between the ultrasound industry and the clinical and educational communities.

When selling dedicated ultrasound equipment, the participating industry partner can provide exclusive educational course vouchers to their customers for an upcoming AIUM course. This helps industry partners sell their product with a special promotion while emphasizing the importance of continuing medical education.

GROUP MEMBERSHIP

The AIUM Industry Group Membership offers companies an opportunity to align with a leading voice in medical ultrasound while gaining year-round visibility and access to a network of engaged professionals. Industry partners who enroll groups of 10 or more participants in AIUM membership gain access to a valuable package of benefits designed to support professional development, foster collaboration, and keep teams at the forefront of ultrasound innovation. Benefits include:

- An online subscription to the Journal of Ultrasound in Medicine, unlocking decades of clinical and technical research;
- Free or discounted access to the AIUM Online Learning Center and all AIUM webinars, making it easy to earn CME credits efficiently;
- Sound Waves weekly newsletter customized to their interests and full of industry insights;
